

I can confirm that the panels will not extrude from the roof more than 190mm (19CM) and the panels when laid will not exceed the ridge line tile. They will be well below the height of the ridge line.