Whilst the proposal complements the character of the host dwelling, the scale of the development has been considered large and dominates the host dwelling. The extension should appear subservient to the host dwelling, with an appropriate scale and mass. It is recommended that should a pitched roof extension continue to be proposed on the rear elevation, this should be set down from the roof ridge present on the host dwelling.

It has been considered that the neighbouring properties/land will not be negatively impacted as a result of the development in terms of residential amenity due to the siting of development.
