

Before submitting your manuscript, please ensure that you have read and understood the following instructions. Failure to follow these instructions may result in your manuscript being rejected or delayed. All authors must agree to the following conditions before submitting their work:

- 1. Originality: The manuscript must be an original work and not a copy of any published or unpublished work. It must not be under consideration for publication elsewhere.
- 2. Permissions: If the manuscript contains text, figures, or tables that are reproduced from other sources, you must obtain the necessary permissions from the copyright holder and provide a citation to the source.
- 3. References: The manuscript must include a list of references that are relevant to the work. The references must be formatted according to the journal's style guide.
- 4. Figures and Tables: If the manuscript contains figures or tables, they must be clearly labeled and formatted according to the journal's style guide. Figures must be submitted as separate files in a format that is acceptable for printing.
- 5. Language and Style: The manuscript must be written in clear, concise, and professional English. It must follow the journal's style guide for formatting, including margins, font size, and line spacing.
- 6. Conflicts of Interest: If the authors have any conflicts of interest that may affect the results of the study, they must disclose them in the manuscript.
- 7. Data Availability: If the manuscript contains data that are essential for understanding the results, the authors must provide a statement indicating where the data can be accessed.
- 8. Consent to Publish: All authors must agree to the publication of the manuscript and to the transfer of copyright to the publisher.

By submitting the manuscript, the authors warrant that they have read and understood these instructions and agree to comply with them. The authors also warrant that the manuscript is their original work and that they have the necessary permissions to publish it.
